HOW AVESORO FOUND COMFORT AND CONFIDENCE IN THE NUMBERS

How were you managing consolidation process before CCH Tagetik?

The main factor that drove me to start searching for a more sophisticated consolidation tool was that Avesoro had grown as a result of mergers and acquisitions. Before our expansion, we developed a single asset site that used Excel for consolidation. After, we suddenly had three sites and an understanding that we should expect even more expansion. So, I began looking for a scalable option; one that was quick to deliver results around governance and consistency.

What set CCH Tagetik apart from other vendors?

CCH Tagetik is a very robust solution. That's the key attraction. It's something that I can understand. It's something that's going to deliver value across the organization. Beyond this, CCH Tagetik goes over and above. The company listens to our needs and consistently provides a solution that's fit for business with high-quality support.

How does CCH Tagetik benefit you and your team?

As a mining company, our main business focus and challenge is cash and working capital, both at the finance and senior management level. At Avesoro, our finance team takes a lead role in delivering assigned insights and robust financials to senior management on a timely basis. CCH Tagetik ensures a single version of the truth, which has enabled us to get comfortable with our numbers. When we're discussing next steps, the conversation isn't whether the data is right. There's no question. In our partnership, CCH Tagetik has removed the donkey work. If you're thinking about a new solution, investigate what CCH Tagetik can do.
